

Artists and Designers will always reflect on their work during the process and on completion of their artwork. This process helps them become critically aware of their work, aiding them in the progression of their style and techniques.

This term you have focused on colour, shading, pattern, proportion and perspective techniques, while gaining inspiration from Western Australian Urban Artists for the style of your artwork. You may find during evaluation that there are some areas in which you need to practice more to improve your work and other areas which you did really well in.

Arts in Society -

To gain an understanding of this outcome, as a class you viewed artworks of prominent Western Australian Artists for inspiration.

Did you successfully research enough material on various artists and artworks through your excursion into Northbridge and viewing various artists websites?

Were you able to incorporate new and varied styles in your own artwork?

Did you understand how Artist exaggerated and stylised various facial features and proportions to create characters?

Consider these points and give yourself a rating on the scale.

Very High

☐

High

☐

Satisfactory

☐

Unsatisfactory

☐

How might you improve or develop your skills in this outcome?

Arts Ideas -

To gain an understanding of this outcome, you experimented with various compositional structures to aid in the outcome of your final design.

Consider the final outcome of your design. Do you think it was well researched in terms of your development of ideas, of stylising a character and your perspective drawing.

Did you consider a variety of alternatives and experiment with colour and pattern to reach a resolved design?

Consider these points and give yourself a rating on the scale.

Very High

High

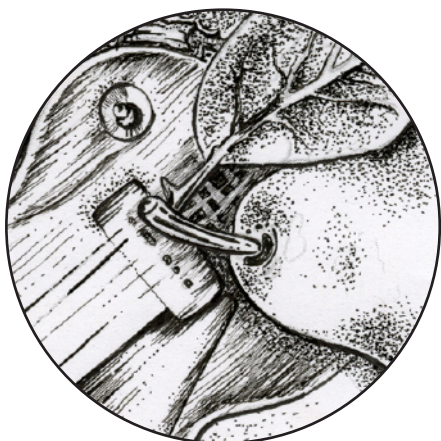

Satisfactory

Unsatisfactory

How might you improve or develop your skills in this outcome?

Arts Skills and Processes -

To develop your skills and techniques this term you completed a variety of activities in perspective, colour, shading and composition.

Art is not only about the ideas behind the work but also the skills and techniques used to execute the final design.

This outcome focuses purely on the presentation and skill level in your work, particularly your final artwork.

Consider these points and give yourself a rating on the scale.

Very High

High

Satisfactory

Unsatisfactory

How might you improve or develop your skills in this outcome?
